THE HOME PAPER

SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

I note in the press of a certain Indiana town which takes great pride in announcing that its jail does not have as many "plain" drunks, as it did 25 years ago. Fact of the matter is that a "plain" drunk nowadays is a rarity. The drunks we have these days are of the "fancy" variety, and plenty fancy, too.

I also note in the press that a foreign hotel keeper complained that although he had 50 Americans in his hotel he only sold three drinks over the bar all day. Probably he did not realize that the latter day Americans are not used to drinking over the bar. They take theirs out of the bottle or from hip flasks. And its mighty hard to change one's drinking habits.

DePauw University is having an "educational exhibit" at the state fair next week. It's a cinch that some of the "birds" I have known to have been graduated from that school will not be placed on display.

The "tree sitters" are slowly but surely leaving their perches and coming down to mother and earth. I expect that are experiencing the same as the St. Louis sustained pilots—the remuneration for staying up is limited.

Who remembers the olden days when it used to rain once in a while.

A certain Republican farmer I know was complaining bitterly about the "hard times" a few days ago until some one suggested to him that "he was getting what he voted for," and then—well, you should have heard him explain that Hoover had no control over the weather conditions.

Miss Mary Case, Greencastle business woman and aviation student at the Curtis school in Indianapolis, says she likes aviation all right but that once in her life when she was "up in the air" she did not like it a bit. That was when she was unexpectedly introduced to 10,000 people who crowded Cadle Tabernacle at the "Admiral Byrd" meeting held there Monday night. Miss Case was introduced as one of Indiana's enthusiastic aviation women.

A telegram from Don McLean, who is visiting in Washington this week, says that although he has now been standing out in front of the White House for two days he has not seen Hoover.

Perhaps the ol' boy is in conference.

Admiral Byrd says that such a thing as a cold is unknown at the south pole. And I'll bet that they are just as scarce in another place I have heard of where the temperature is just the opposite of that at the south pole.

But I'll just suffer on with an occasional cold.

The Admiral says the cold germs freeze at the pole. But they would not freeze at the place I'm thinking about.

The Republicans, who have been contending that prosperity is just around the corner, must have it cornered in a silo.

ASKS DIVORCE; CHARGES THAT WIFE WENT WITH ANOTHER
Walter S. Frye of 709 Ohio street, in a suit filed in the Putnam circuit court today seeks a divorce from his wife Mae Frye and the custody of their two children, Walter, 4 years old and Mildred Bernice, 7 years old.

Frye sets forth in his complaint that he and Mrs. Frye were married in October of 1921 and separated August 19 of this year.

The divorce is sought on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and infidelity. The complaint states that the wife was quarrelsome, and that she called Frye vile names and told him she did not love him.

CITY COUNCIL WILL CONTROL MINATURE GOLF

CITY ATTORNEY IS INSTRUCTED TO DRAW UP ORDER CONCERNING THE OPERATION OF NEW AMUSE-MENT PLACE

A FEE TO BE CHARGED

Action Taken After Complaint Of Residents Of Neighborhood Of The "Moonlit" Miniature Golf Course at Washington and Arlington Streets

On a motion of Councilman Cherry the City council of Greencastle at their regular meeting held in City Hall Tuesday night instructed city attorney Glenn Lyon to draw up an order governing the operation of miniature golf courses within the city limits of Greencastle.

Instructions to prepare the order were given to the attorney after George Ensign, a resident of east Washington street appeared before the City council complaining that the "Moonlit" miniature golf course in his neighborhood as it is now operated was a public nuisance, and that unless the council did something to control it he would go to the circuit court and get a restraining order to prevent its operation.

The order to be drawn up by the city attorney will control the parking of autos near the amusement center, the parking will probably be limited to the east side of the street, and Mr. Roscoe Hurst, owner of the course will be asked to discontinue the loud music of the radio, and to operate in a "quiet and orderly manner."

A fee of $10 a month for the months during which the course is operated is to be charged the owners of miniature golf courses within the city limits, and this ruling is to be embodied in the order that the attorney was instructed to prepare. A closing time will probably be set by the order for miniature golf courses. Course owners will be forced to close before 12 o'clock at night, and most of the councilmen favored an earlier closing time.

In making his complaint Mr. Ensign stated that the new amusement center at Arlington and Washington streets had completely destroyed the peace and quietude of his neighborhood, and that he had complained to the council before with no result.

He further stated that he felt that the council was responsible for the "Moonlit" miniature golf course being started and that he looked to the council for relief.

Mr. Ensign said that the glaring lights, the loud music of the radio and the constant starting and stopping of cars near the course had made his home life unbearable.

Chang Hsueh-Liang Reported To Throw Manchuria's Strength On The Side Of The Northern Rebels

PIEPING, Aug. 27.—(INS)—Martial law held this city in its grip today, following bombing of the business district by two Nanking army planes.

Swooping low over the busy area, the raiders hurled their bombs into the heart of the city, sending the populace flying in panic in all directions. The rapidity with which streets cleared prevented heavy casualties.

Damage was done to some buildings, but it was not believed that any persons were killed by the bombs.

Reports were current, meanwhile that Chang Hsueh-Liang has decided to throw Manchuria's strength on the side of the northern coalition, in which event warfare in China may be expected to assume new aspects.

Further increasing belief that the coming fall will witness some of the heaviest fighting recorded this year were reports from Nanking that preparations were under way for a new military offensive on several fronts.
